

Headphone storage and protection case

Enter a new musical era with this XL headphone case.

Protect your headphones with complete peace of mind thanks to its EVA shell, which will withstand all shocks.

The reinforced foam adds additional protection and prevents any risk of breakage in the event of a fall.

Afraid of scratches? No problem, the presence of a soft touch material softens the interior of your case and takes care of your headphones.

We wanted to find the most optimal solution, which is why we created a mold specially for this product, allowing you to hold your headphones by pushing the pads as well as the headband. This one is compatible with the largest audio headphones on the market; while keeping a design as compact as possible with only 8.5cm thick, for an external dimension of 21 by 24 cm. You can also find dedicated spaces to store and transport your cables so you never have battery problems.

To facilitate its transport, the case is equipped with a carrying handle, so that you can always have your headset close to you!

Its pure design gives you elegance and style. Its double zippers make its opening simple.
